Male Minimum Wage Act

Minimum wages for male employees in Alberta have been increased by a new order under The Male Minimum Wage Act to be gassed in the first issue of the Alberta Gazette in 1945, according to an announcement this week by Hon. C. E. Gerhart, Minister of Trade and Industry. The new order will go into effect on February 1, 1945.

The previous order applied to a work week of 42 hours. The new order will apply to one of 40 hours, but the maximum work week of 54 hours will still be permitted.

Wages on a per hour basis have been increased five cents per hour for each of the four recognized classes of worker according to ages.

Under the new order, and assuming that the employee is engaged on a weekly basis or for longer steady period, the worker 19 years of age or over will receive $20.00 per week as compared with the previous $18.00. Eighteen-year-olds will get $18.50 instead of $16.50. Seventeen-year-olds will get $16.00 instead of $13.50 and those under seventeen will get $13.50 instead of $10.50. The new scales will apply to all workers employed 40 to 54 hours per week. Time and a half will be paid for overtime.

When the work week totals less than 40 hours, the employees will be engaged on a per hour basis. Those 19 or over will get 45 cents per hour instead of 40. Eighteen-year-olds will get 40 cents instead of 35. Seventeen-year-olds get 35 cents instead of 30 and those under 17 will get 30 cents instead of 25. Minimum payment under this schedule will be for four hours, even though only a fraction of four hours is worked.

Deductions under the new order will remain unchanged and will be $5.00 per week for 21 meals or 25 cents for a single meal and $2.00 per week of seven days for lodgings or 25 cents per day.

The new order applies to all classes of employees and employers to which The Male Minimum Wage Act applies except where, as in the case of apprentices, casual workers, commission agents, trade school students workers under approved contracts, etc., the Board of Industrial Relations has made exemptions.

It is a stipulation of the new order that a bulletin containing the details and issued by the Board of Industrial Relations must be posted where it can be easily read by the employees.

Placement of Men After Discharge

Employers who intend to engage an engineer or other technical person discharged from a branch of the Armed Forces must first obtain a permit from the Wartime Bureau of Technical Personnel, it was announced today by H. W. Lea, Associate Director of National Selective Service, who is in charge of the Bureau.

National Selective Service Regulations define a technical person as "one who is a graduate of a recognized university in any branch of engineering or pure science, or is a member of a professional engineering or scientific body."

Technical personnel who have not previously registered with the Bureau, must do so following discharge from the Forces before the regulations permit them to seek employment. However, having registered the applicant for a position as a technical person does not require a permit to seek work, although as already pointed out, the employer must have a permit before he can engage such an applicant.

The Bureau is actively engaged in a program to assist in the placement of engineers and science workers who have been discharged from the Forces. Applicants may apply either at the head office of the Bureau in Ottawa, or at any of the Branch Offices which are located at Halifax, Quebec City, Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, Winnipeg and Vancouver.

A.M.A. Delegation Sees Government

Better deal for the Alberta motorists both in respect to lowering of license fees and improved highways was urged when a delegation from the Alberta Motor Association recently interviewed members of the provincial cabinet.

The representatives from the A.M.A. were received sympathetically, but the government would make no commitments. While it was stated by some cabinet ministers that they would like to carry out improvements suggested by the A.M.A., they pointed out on the other hand the difficulty of financing such undertakings.

The delegation emphasized the need of lower license fees for motorists, which is something the A.M.A. has been fighting for consistently for years, and it intends to keep up its demands for a downward revision of fees.

Better highways also are of importance, particularly as Alberta must prepare for the influx of tourist business that will mark the opening of the post-war period.

James Cleave, of Calgary, president of the A.M.A., headed the delegation.

What We Do At The Ration Board

If you are one of those persons who seem to love to say:

"What do you do at the Ration Board?"

Board

"That keeps you there all day?"

I'll do a bit of explaining.

And think you will agree

That we're not sitting, doing our knitting,

Down at the L.R.B.

When a man comes in at the noon hour

And we're struggling to get away

And says: "What do you do if you've just had a baby?"

Now I ask you—What would you say?

So we pick up a form from our littered desk,

And ask from which township he came,

Was it he or his wife had the baby,

And what is it's age and it's name?

We assume that his wife had a doctor

She did? Well isn't that fine?

Now what is his name and his address?

Thank you! Right here's where to sign.

Or: "I'm visiting Simcoe from Cleveland."

I'll only be here for one day;

I know I couldn't draw rations

Just thought I'd ask anyway!"

Oh yes, there's our butter producers,

We have them, tho' I don't know why;

If we ask them for coupons they trade in their cow,

Or else they report she's gone dry!

We have transient labourers; soldiers on leave,

And tourists on their vacations;

Extra allowance for diabetics and such,

And a host of new applications.

Thoughts by the Way

This is not a popular topic. Anything which touches upon the prejudices we do not admit we entertain never is. But I am compelled to speak of it because there is constant revelation of the need for greater racial tolerance, for devoting more attention to the building of goodwill, particularly in a land like ours where people of many nationalities are living.

It is often difficult to change the deep-seated prejudices of older people so it is in the children that we must put our thought and hope. And right there arises the stumbling block. For how can prejudiced parents raise children of good will?

This thought is forcibly expressed by William Johnson in connection with the observance of Brotherhood Week in the United States, February 18-25, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Mr. Johnson says parents should realize that "attitudes either good or bad, are not created suddenly but are influenced by a multitude of incidents and seemingly trivial words. It is the daily happening which counts, rather than the big event or unusual occurrence." And so parents should point out very early to their children that "no two atoms are alike, no two fingerprints are two snowflakes. People are different. Groups are different. Children should be raised to extend differences and they should be given proper interpretations of them. One of our troubles has been that we have tried to OVERLOOK DIFFERENCES, have acted as though there were none."

We in Canada have made very little real effort to point out these differences to our children, or to interpret them. We have not taken the time or the trouble to teach our children that in spite of our differences we have many things in common that bind us together as Mr. Johnson says that "we are alike in many respects."

"Every person must be judged on his own record. It is so easy for us to say 'all redheads have had tempers' or that all of a certain group are 'queer' or 'bad'. Yet if we are to remove intolerance, we must forever insist that the only fair way to deal with any person is on the basis of his individual characteristics. Members of all groups have contributed to our own welfare and happiness. The genius and hard work of people of all races, creeds and nations enrich our daily living."

And that is the pattern we must cut for our children to follow. That is the only way we shall ever raise children of good will and make any real contribution to the furtherance of the brotherhood of man.

Veterans Return To C.N.R. Job

Winnipeg—"The manpower situation is clarifying itself to some extent and already we have rehabilitated quite a number of former employees who have been released from military service, both from overseas and in Canada," declared N.E. Walton executive vice-president, Canadian National Railways, after an inspection trip throughout Western Canada.

"There were more than 20,000 of our employees who entered military service. Our rehabilitation programme calls for taking care of all these employees and of course, we are glad to have them back. Some of the returned men are skilled shopmen and their return has enabled us to extend our general repair programme, for both locomotives and rolling stock."

There has been a steady rail movement of grain from the Lakehead elevators eastbound ever since navigation closed and this will continue throughout the winter. This grain is both for domestic and export markets. Our freight equipment is still a bit short and we are receiving from time to time new box cars. We have an extensive programme of refrigerator car construction at the Transcona Shops."

Local Red Cross Appeals for Help

We are now coming into the important "follow through" period in our fight for freedom. No man can fortify what lies ahead. The fortunes of war change with the day and the hour. Our fighting men—on all fronts—strain towards that day when VICTORY will be the cry! Men on the field of battle stick to THEIR job no matter what the news is like. They go forward, grimly, with no thought of letting down.

Can we, in all conscience, do less? Our men in prison camps depend for their very lives on our Red Cross food parcels, blood serum for the wounded is equally important. The starving ill-clad and homeless of the liberated countries look to us for all the help we can give. Our boys in hospitals need every comfort and extra attention that we can supply. It is to relieve such suffering that the Canadian Red Cross Society is launching a Dominion wide campaign for $10,000,000 from March 8th to 31st.

In this sixth year of the war, Canadian Red Cross appeals to you to give as you have never given before. The need is so much greater now. Stay home in Canada cannot trade places with our brothers in the shadow of the enemy, but we CAN save Heaven and Earth to help them and here is one SURE way—GIVE THE CANADIAN RED CROSS A LARGER DONATION THIS YEAR—It is your Red Cross Week it up 100%, there is no worthwhile cause.

WINGS over CANADA

Russell L. GIBSON and Robert REEDS

Canada's aircraft industry is playing an important part in the job of bombing Japan. The big Boeing Aircraft of Canada's Sea Island plant near Vancouver, B.C. is making sections of B-29 Super Fortress bombers. The section made in Canada begins just forward of the front bomb bay doors and extends to just back of the rear bomb bay doors. Maybe this business of making just part of a plane doesn't sound exciting but even that bit of aircraft extends for some 35 feet or a little over a third of the Super Fortress' 100-foot length. If you placed the tip of one Super Fortress wing on a street, and let the other wing tip stand upright, it would extend above the top of many a 10 or 12-storey building.

Many a Canadian municipality is already planning energetically for post-war flying. In Ontario several hundred delegates from towns and cities all over the province are scheduled to attend a conference in Hamilton on February 27 and 28. The conference is sponsored by the Hamilton Chamber of Commerce. One of the key speakers will be William B. Piper, President of the Piper Cub Corporation in the United States. His company made and sold more aircraft before the war than all other companies put together.

Perhaps the most interesting exhibit to be shown at the conference will be a little Cub grasshopper, the first one made in Canada. This is the little plane which takes off and lands in small spaces, and is used for artillery spotting and as an ambulance plane in Europe and the Far East. Incidentally, with a charge of paint and one or two other minor alterations it will be the first post-war light plane produced in quantity in both Canada and the United States.

Canada can be proud of the fact that she has designed and produced what has been accepted by aviation authorities all over the world as one of the 20 "best" planes built. It is the Noorduyn Norseman, a single engine utility plane originally designed for bush flying in Canada's North lands by R. B. C. Noorduyn of Montreal. Before the war it was used widely by bush pilots. Now it is being built in hundreds and is going all over the world as a utility cargo plane. It may well be one of the world's foremost feeder-line models after the war.

An interesting post-war flying development in Canada will centre around the air force veteran who lives in a small town, owns his own plane and provides flying service and instruction on summer evenings and full-time bread and butter job.

Ottawa News Letter

ALL FAMILIES WILL RECEIVE F.A. CHEQUES

OTTAWA—Registration for family allowances begins this week in Prince Edward Island and next month registration will get under way in other provinces. This is the first step toward start of family allowance payments in July. More than 1,600,000 cheques will go out each month for Canada's 3,500,000 children and upwards of $20,000,000 will be distributed monthly to Canadian families. In most cases the cheques will be made payable to the mother and the act requires that the money be spent for the welfare of the children. Great Social Gain.

This is the greatest single social and economic measure Canada has ever undertaken. The government believes it will result in immediate improvement of the living standards of the Canadian people. It will be of special benefit in smaller urban centres and in rural areas because in these the standard of social, health and welfare services in the past has been below the level of that of larger cities. The application forms are simple, requiring merely listing of the names and birth of the children, information as to where the children are living and the signature of one or both of the parents. In most cases the seven questions can be answered with a simple "Yes" or "No."

Registration Important

To be eligible for the allowance, the birth of each child must be registered with the proper vital statistics authority. It is estimated that there are 70,000 children in Canada whose births are not registered. Hon. Brooke Claxton, minister of National Health and Welfare, is urging all parents to see that the births of their children are registered so that they can come under the plan from the start. The scale of payments is: $5 a month for children up to five years of age; $6 for children from six to nine; $7 for children from 10 to 12 and $8 for children from 13 to 15 years of age. In families where there are more than four children there is a reduction of $1 from the above scale for the fifth child; a reduction of $2 each for the sixth and seventh child and of $3 for each additional child.

All families receive payment

For example, a family with two children, age 5 and 7, will receive $11 a month. Where there are four children, age two, six, nine and 13 years of age, the monthly payment to the family is $25. Application forms will be delivered through the post office to every household in Canada where children under 16 are known to be living. Those with eligible children who do not receive the forms can get them at any post office. Family allowances will be paid to people receiving mothers' allowances, dependent allowances, war pensions, rehabilitation grants, unemployment insurance or workmen's compensation. The payments go as a right to all families with children under 16 years of age.

HOW BEEKEEPERS SECURE SUGAR

Alberta beekeepers who require sugar for feeding bees must contact W. G. Le Maistre, Provincial Apiarist says C. G. McKee, rationing superintendent, Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Applicants must furnish name and address, number of bee colonies, period during which sugar is to be used and the minimum quantity necessary. If honey is supplied outside the house hold, the applicant must also state the number under which he is registered as supplier with the Prices Board and the address of the Local Ration Board or branch at which he is registered.

ONE MONTH TO REGISTER

Used car dealers, wishing to continue in business must secure permits from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board by March 31st. Permits will be granted only to dealers possessing facilities for repairing or reconditioning used cars.

Private sellers of cars must allow buyers at least 10% deduction from the selling price for estimated cost of putting the car into good operating condition. Reports of the transaction, signed by both buyer and seller must be filed with the WPTB within the succeeding four days.

DRAWING

THE BEST
FROM PEOPLE

Amidst the welter of stories about all the blaming of this group and that which shows the lack of national teamwork, it's encouraging to hear now of how teamwork is being produced.

A French Canadian union leader
spoke recently in the Montreal home
of an English-speaking industrialist, Mr. B. M. Hallward, and said how much his association with Mr. Hall-ward and his friends in Moral Rearmament had meant to him. "Before I met you," he said, "I'd always hated the English, since as boys at school we used to throw stones at each other. I regarded them as hard-headed materialists and always thought they wanted me to conform to their ways of thinking. But I've begun to see that in order to make our country what it should be, I must be truer than ever to our highest traditions as French-Canadians.
It's not the French way we have to find, nor the English way—but God's way. I will go anywhere to build this kind of unity with you."

There were some hundred in all present that night, representative of leading French and English thought in the province, including both Protestant and Roman Catholic clergy.
The young co-editor of a paper that goes to 50,000 French workers was the next to speak. "We're not here", she said, "as one race trying to give to the other, but as two people uniting on the basis that we both need to change."

Finally, a man representing 65,000 French workers rose to his feet. He talked for quite a time—simply and from his heart. He, too, began by recounting what Mr. Hallward's friendship had meant to him and that he had learned they could also work together for better teamwork in industry. He said the Moral Re-Armament Centre at Mackinac Island
"thunder," he said, "I met English people who cared as much as we do for the values of home life and the other things that we hold precious. Since then I am a changed man—different at home and at my work."

All this time his wife, sitting with him, was nodding silent but vigorous assent. Her face seemed to say that whatever it was that had happened to her husband, it was a good thing.
The union leader concluded, "The interesting thing is that all these things that I've learnt and which have meant so much to me in my work have come largely from English speaking Protestants."

Draw the best out of people and the worst comes too. Have a programme—a vision; a platform big enough to demand the best qualities from all, so worth fighting for that prejudices and points of view just slough off—that's unity.

Household Hints

ARE YOU SPAGHETTI
CONSCIOUS

If you are spaghetti conscious, try one or all of the following recipes and you will get a happy surprise:

Spaghetti with Tomato Sauce

1 pound spaghetti
1 can tomato sauce
Place contents of a can of tomato sauce into a pan containing about a half-can of water. Add salt and pepper and simmer slowly, about 15 minutes.

In a kettle containing about 2 quarts of boiling water, add the spaghetti and 1 teaspoon salt. Boil until spaghetti is done, but still chewy. Drain. Place on large platter cover with tomato sauce and serve.
6 servings.

Uncle Sam Pepper Pot

1 large beef bone or knuckle of veal
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 bay leaf
1 stalk celery, chopped
1/2 red pepper, chopped
1 lb. spaghetti elbows
Salt and pepper to taste

Cover the soup bone with water,
cover the pot and simmer, slowly
for about 3 hours. Then cool, skim off the fat and strain the stock (*).
There should be about 5 to 10 cups of stock. If not, add water to make that quantity.

Add the other ingredients, excepting the spaghetti elbows, and simmer for 30 to 40 minutes. Then add the spaghetti elbows and simmer slowly until latter are done to a still chewy
state. Season with salt and pepper, and serve. Makes 6 portions.

*Many prefer to trim the lean meat from the bone, cut it into bits and to cook them with the other ingredients before adding the spaghetti elbows, making a delicious meat vegetable soup.

Buttered Spaghetti with Cheese

To serve with your Sunday roast or with chicken any day, try "Buttered Spaghetti with Cheese. It's a dish, experts say, that provides just the change many will relish,—yet easy to prepare.

1/2 lb. spaghetti
4 cups boiling water
4 tbsp. butter or substitute
1/2 cup grated cheese
Salt, pepper and paprika

Have water boiling. Add spaghetti and 1 teaspoon salt. Cook rapidly until all water is practically absorbed,—about 20 minutes. Stir regularly to keep from scorching the spaghetti.
Add seasoning and melted butter, mixing all well. Serve hot. (4 portions).

CAKE MAKING AS THE CROW
FLIES

This is cake making by the "Mix-Easy" method—now at last the superb performance of cake flour is matched by a streamlined mixing method—and welcome news it will be in days when household duties are only part of the work you do.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating so here is the recipe:

Lucky Nut Loaf

Preparations:
Have the shortening at room temperature. Grease 9x5x3-inch loaf pan, line bottom with waxed paper, and grease again. Start oven for moderate heat (350°F.) Sift flour once before measuring.

Measure into after:
2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake
Flour

2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder

1/2 teaspoon salt

1 1/2 cups sugar

Measure into bowl:

1/2 cup vegetable shortening

Measure into cup:

1/2 cup milk

1 teaspoon vanilla

Have ready:

2 eggs, unbeaten

1/2 cup chopped nut meats

Now the "mix-easy" part:

Mix or stir shortening just to melt. Sift in dry ingredients; add 1/2 of liquid and the eggs. Mix until all flour is dampened then beat 1 minute. Add remaining liquid and nuts, blend, and beat 2 minutes longer. (Count only actual beating time.
Or count beating strokes. Allow at least 100 full strokes per minute.
Scrape bowl and spoon or beater often.)

Baking:

Turn batter into pan. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) about 1 hour and 15 minutes. Let cool in pan.

Note: Mix cake by hand or at low speed of electric mixer.

Creamy Fudge Frosting

1 square unsweetened chocolate

1/2 cup sugar

1/2 cup milk

3 tablespoons vegetable shortening

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Place chocolate, sugar, milk,
shortening and salt in small saucepan. Bring slowly to a full boil, stirring constantly. Continue boiling 3 minutes without stirring. Cool to lukewarm. Add vanilla and beat until of right consistency to spread, its gloss. Makes 1/2 cup frosting, or enough to cover top of 9x5x3-inch loaf cake.

Registration for family allowances begins with a few weeks of the start of payment of war service gratuities to discharged members of Canada's armed forces, another of the major measures introduced into parliament by the government and passed last session. Already 78,000 applications for gratuities have been received and more than 55,000 gratuity cheques a month are going out from Ottawa. Within a few days it is expected the rest of the applications will be dealt with and the additional cheques issued. Those desiring to avail themselves of the generous re-establishment credits for war veterans can apply for them as soon as they receive their first gratuity payments. Thus another big step in the government's comprehensive program for a prosperous postwar Canada, has become a reality.

PRODUCERS SUBMIT

SALES RECORDS

Every registered farm producer, every month, must file with the Local Ration Board a statement in writing recording his transactions in rationed foods during the previous month. At the same time, he must submit all ration coupons and documents collected to cover transactions. Deadline date is 10th of each month, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board says.

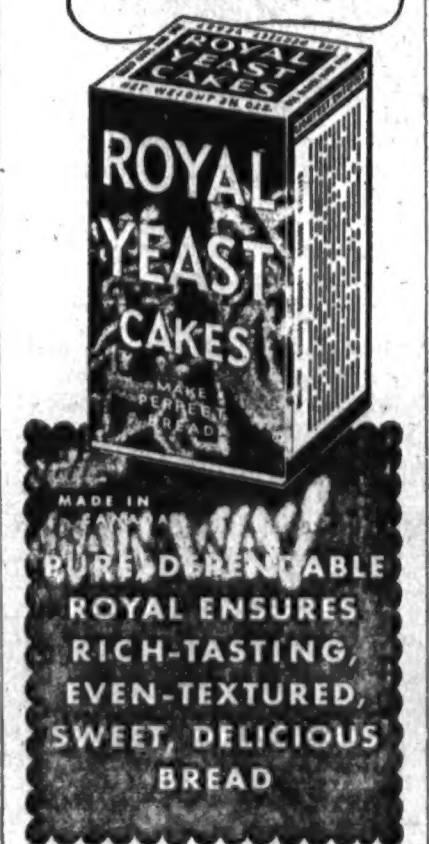

TIMELY TIPS

Not Hopeless!

An old knitted garment so shrunk and matted that travelling is hopeless is not a dead loss... not by a long shot. When the seams are unpicked the pieces can be cut as though they were cloth. Sew round the edges by machine before stitching seams and be careful not to stretch. There may be a parka, a child's warm shirt or panties in that old sweater of yours.
